Numb. 8555.

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday July 19, to Tuesday July 22, 1746.

Vienna, July 20.

A Courier arrived here Yesterday Morning from the Marquis Botta, with Letters of the 13th Instant, with Advice, that the Austrian and Sardinian Armies had agreed to pass the the Po, the one above, and the other below the Bridge at Placentia, in order to join and clear that Part of the Milaneze which lies between the Tessin and the Adda; and that every Thing was preparing for the said double Passage.

Munich, July 21. This Day a Treaty was signed here between the Plenipotentiary Ministers of his Britannick Majesty, the States General, and the Elector of Bavaria; by which his Electoral Highness yields a Body of six Battalions of his Troops to the Service of the Maritime Powers: And at the same Time a new Convention was signed between the Empress Queen of Hungary and his Electoral Highness.

Munich, July 21. On the 26th Instant will be publickly declared the double Marriage between the Elector and the Princess Royal of Bavaria with the Prince and Princess of Saxony. There is Advice here, that the Austrian and Sardinian Armies joined each other on the Banks of the Trebbia the 16th Instant, under the King of Sardinia's Command. We have also an Account, that the French have drawn almost all their Troops out of Alsace, and are marching a considerable Reinforcement towards Italy.

Berlin, July 23, N. S. His Prussian Majesty is expected in Town To-morrow, and proposes to set out for Silesia on the 26th, and to return to Potzdam about the 12th of next Month. M. Woronzow, the Russian Minister, arrived at Potzdam the 20th, and here on the 22d. He intends to set out for Petersbourg on the 27th or 28th.

Liege, July 26, N. S. The Imperial Troops which are in March from Bohemia, are very speedily expected near Heilbron, from whence the Pontoons, &c. had already taken the Van for Sintzheim in the Lower Palatinate. On the 24th Instant the Allied Army marched to encamp between Bilsen and Hasselt, and will go from thence To-morrow the 27th to incamp near Tongres. The Prince of Conti has encamped a Body of 6000 Men, which he received from Alsace, at St. Barbe, upon the Right of the Meuse. Gabions are preparing for the Siege of Charleroy in the Woods near that Place, and upon the Territories of Liege.

Hague, July 26. We hear that there are five Men of War fitting out at Brest, and that M. de Maurepas has sent Commissaries into the French Ports to examine the Magazines, and put all the Men of War in a Condition of Service. It is reported that the French King was to set out for the Netherlands the 25th Instant, and that the Dauphin would accompany him thither.

Hague, July 29. News was received here Yesterday of the Death of the Bishop of of Bamberg and Wurtzburg. The Allied Army is ſuppoſed to be now lying between St. Tron and Tongres, whilſt that of France is extending itſelf along the Weſtern Side of the Little Geete. The Siege of Charleroy is affirmed to be begun, and the Troops that were employed in reducing St. Ghilain, to be marched to reinforce the Corps which is beſieging the former Place. The French King's Return to his Army is again poſtponed for ſome Days, by his Affliction for the Loſs of the Dauphineſs, who died laſt Friday Morning. There is credible Advice of the Junction of the Auſtrians and Piedmonteſe upon the Trebia the 16th Inſtant; and that the Prince of Lichtenſtein, who has never removed farther than Fiorenzula, might poſſibly ſoon reſume the Command of the Auſtrians under his Sardinian Majeſty.

Whitehall, July 22.

His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint Jonathan Belcher, Eſq; to be Governor of Nova Cæſarea, or New Jerſey, in America, in the room of Lewis Morris, Eſq; deceaſed.
